

Mizer Mobile Systems: Precious Resources

The Challenge:

To capitalize on your investment!

Every time an exploration company drills a well, thousands of dollars are invested. Sometimes the holes come up dry, but hopefully the investment pays off with a strike! The decision to drill is carefully thought out and planned.

Each WELL FILE can represent thousands of dollars spent in the pursuit of the precious resource. The information is valuable, costly to obtain and just like drilling; how these important files are stored is of utmost importance and carefully considered by exploration companies.

The Solution

MIZER mobile shelving is found in many of the worlds largest and best run exploration companies.

Storing the files in the most compact space saves leasing dollars. The speed of file retrieval is enhanced with coded end tabs, reducing labor. The Mizer adjustable shelves allow for different types and styles of well files to be stored; everything from expanding pockets and pressboard, to binders.

A GREAT INVESTMENT!
