

Museum, Archives & Art: Collection Storage

The Challenge

The City of Medicine Hat needed to incorporate three collections: (Museum, Archives and Art) into one new facility. The collections also needed to be housed in less space than the existing footprints of their respective buildings and allow for future expansion.

Besides budget concerns; safety, security and preservation of the collections were of utmost importance.

The Solution

To properly address the concerns of the three collections, Mizer mobile shelving was the product of choice.

The track was recessed into the concrete floor giving the system a completely level and safe walking surface. Three types of shelving were utilized to meet the specific storage requirements of each area. All steel parts were powder coated to eliminate off gassing.

Best of all, it came in under budget and allows for years of growth.
